IKSLISAD-2023 (24-26TH MARCH, 2023): REPORT

Prof. Arun Kumar Chakraborty, HOD, DLIS and Seminar Director expressed his warm greetings and expressed his gratitude to all the University authorities and the Director General RRRLF and officials of Ministry of Culture, Government of India for financially or otherwise supporting the IKSLISAD-2023. He also expressed his gratitude to entire organizing committee headed by the Honble Vice Chancellor Sir & Director SPS and all the members of Advisory committee as well as entire organizing committee. He also profusely thanked the institute authorities, officials and staff members who have contributed whole heartedly to make the program success. He explained the relevance and need of the seminar. He explained how IKS in different subjects facilitating across the globe to attain new high. He introduced the chief guest and the speakers. He said that about 92 papers from LIS and allied areas have been selected for the presentation out of which more than 30% of the selected papers are from other than the LIS field i.e. allied field across the subjects like science, medicine, economics, history, sociology etc. The seminar sessions would be delivered by galaxy of luminaries across the field and across the globe as a plenary lecture / invited speakers / joint moderators etc. more than 10 plenary lectures and more than 30 people from across the globe. He concluded his lecture with a hope of obtain lots of innovative ideas would emerge from this three days extensive seminar. He also stated the objectives of the seminar is to identify the components of IKS in the different disciplines and how it has been contributing to build New India as well as how across the globe humanity is benefitted.

Prof. Ranjan Chakraborti, Prof in History, Jadavpur University and former Vice Chancellor of NSOU and Vidyasagr University as well as he was mentor of the IKSLISAD-2023. According to Prof Chakraborti, true knowledge can be obtained by adopting some methodology. Knowledge may be both scientific as well as non-scientific. Oral histories, chronicles are good source of scientific history. He said it is not possible to meet all the members of a community therefore we can have an “imaginary community” who can be help us in getting information, and this can be a way to revive the indigenous knowledge .

Swami Suparnananda Maharaj Ji spoke about two kinds of knowledge-Apore Vidya and Aatme Vidya. The 1st kind of knowledge is the universal knowledge, i.e what we see around us, these knowledge does not need any interpretation, however the 2nd type of knowledge is the knowledge of self, we have to apply our inner sense, intellectual to understand this type of knowledge and this type of knowledge is the true knowledge. We have to enlighten our soul and mind to reach Aatmevidya. Only meditation and good work can help us to attain Aatmevidya or the true knowledge.

Prof. Ajay Pratap Singh, DG, National Library and DG RRRLF in his chief guest address said that our past is very rich. However, India underwent the ‘Black Era’ when the invaders came to our land and destroyed all the valuable documents. The ancient knowledge system could not reach the future generation and this was a big loss to our culture. However we still have religious documents like Puran, and Gita which teaches reality of life. Unfortunately we could not popularize these documents in our community. The Public Libraries must be established in every community, not only in urban areas but also in rural belts so that the people can once again get connected to these valuable knowledge systems.

Dr. Kishor Chandra Satpathy, Chief Librarian, ISI, Kolkata

Prof. Susmita Chakraborty, DLIS, University of Calcutta, Kolkata.

Invited Speaker(s) :(10 minutes x2)

Prof. Sudip Ranjan Hatua, DLIS, RBU, Kolkata

Dr. Vijay Raghav Tiwari, Librarian, IISER, Kalyani, West Bengal

Report of Day – II IKSLISAD 2023, Technical Session – IA (SCS) (Parallel Session)

Theme: IKS-LIS Issues and Community Information System and Services Reinforcing IKS

□ Prof. Susmita Chakraborty, DLIS, University of Calcutta, West Bengal delivered her lecture on Knowledge Management System. She mentioned about the different components of Knowledge Management which are people, process, content/IT and strategy. Regardless of the industry, size or knowledge needs of your organization, you always need people to lead, sponsor and support knowledge sharing. She then presented on needs of knowledge management in libraries where knowledge acquisition is the starting point of knowledge management in libraries. Knowledge management is important because it boosts the efficiency of an organization's decision-making ability. By making sure that all employees have access to the overall expertise held within the organization, a smarter workforce is built that is more able to make quick, informed decisions, benefitting the entire company

□ Prof. Sudip Ranjan Hatua, DLIS, RBU, Kolkata, West Bengal delivered his lecture on Indian culture – A Strong Knowledge base. Indian culture, often labeled as a combination of several cultures has been influenced by a history that is several years old, beginning with the Indus Valley Civilization and other early cultural areas. Many elements of Indian culture have had a profound impact across the Greater India and the world. Hinduism itself formed from various distinct folk religions, which merged during the Vedic period and the following periods. He mentioned how Indians tend to have a strong sense of pride in the distinctiveness and diversity of their culture. Moreover, a considerable amount of pride steams from India's rich artistic cultural exports of music, fine arts, literature and spirituality.

□ Dr. Vijay Raghav Tiwary, Librarian, IISER, Kalyani, West Bengal delivered his lecture on Role of Librarian in Promoting Digital Transformation Literacy. He mentioned that having a digitally literate workforce is essential for any organization looking to transform itself. Employees who are digitally literate are able to understand and use new technologies to improve their work process and increase efficiency. Employees are also better equipped to identify opportunities for digital transformation and to develop strategies to take advantage of them. He mentioned how digital literacy is not just about understanding technology but also understanding the business context in which it is being used. To develop digital transformation literacy, organizations should provide training and education opportunities for employees.
