Indian Council of Social Science Research sponsored Two-Day National Seminar on “Macro Trade and Economic Policy in India-An Approach Towards Atmanirbhar Bharat” organized by the Department of Economics, School of Professional Studies, Netaji Subhas Open University on 28-29th April, 2023.

“APON HOTE BAHIR HOYE BAIRE DARRA
BUKER MAJHE BISWALOKER PABI SARRA”

“আপন হতে বাহির হয়ে বাইরে দাঁড়া
বুকের মাঝে বিশ্বলোকের পাবি সাড়া”

-----Rabindranath Tagore

Really the dream of Gurudeva and the ‘Hero of Freedom’ Netaji was to make the people of India - ‘Self-reliant’ which is the other name of Atmanirbhar Bharat. Atmanirbhar Bharat is the strategy and futuristic effort initiated by the Central Government. It was announced by the Government of India to build new India by strengthening the core dimensions by implementing government reforms and sectoral enablers. The scope of Atmanirbhar Bharat is not only to meet the Indian market demand but also to march ahead towards “Make for the world” and making the Indian entrepreneurs more competitive. At the time of the announcement, it was mentioned that Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose is the biggest source of inspiration behind ‘Atmanirbhar Bharat’. This reminds us one of Netaji’s eternal quotes, “one individual may die for an idea, but that idea will, after his death incarnate itself in a thousand lives”.

Considering the essence of Atmanirbhar Bharat or vocal for local mission the School of Professional Studies, Netaji Subhas Open University organized ICSSR sponsored Two-Day National Seminar on ‘Macro Trade and Economic Policy in India-An Approach Towards Atmanirbhar Bharat’ on 28th and 29th April 2023. This two-day National Seminar consisted of one Inaugural session, eight Technical Sessions and finally the Valedictory Session.

The First day program was divided into two parts. The first part was dealt with the Inaugural session and the second part of the first day program consisted of four Technical Sessions.

In the inaugural session, a galaxy of learned persons assembled on the Dias. At the outset Professor (Dr) Anirban Ghosh, Director, School of Professional Studies, NSOU offered a very hearty welcome address focusing on different emerging issues in the present-day context. Whenever any task is assigned to Professor Anirban Ghosh, he does this task efficiently and confidently. Professor (Dr) Biswajit Chatterjee, Professor, Dept. of Economics, NSOU very nicely explained the theme of the seminar in a very lucid and thought-provoking manner.

Our Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor Professor (Dr.) Chandan Basu in his inaugural address, very nicely mentioned the history of 'Trade' starting from ancient period to modern era. Being a teacher of History, he tried to focus on the positive side of Indian economy and the need for self-reliance in the present-day perspectives. Really all the dignitaries and participants were charmed by his delighting and enriching lecture.

Professor (Dr.) Arka Das Mahapatra, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Odissa State Open University graced the Seminar as the Chief Guest of the program. He always tries to blend creativity with enthusiasm to shine as one of the most effusive and effective luminaries in the annals of Commerce and Management. As Chief Guest he highlighted the spirit of the theme of the seminar.

When Professor (Dr.) Subhrangshu Sekhar Sarkar, Professor, Department of Business Administration and Director, Teaching Learning Centre, Tezpur University agrees to attend any inaugural program, it is obvious that the glamour and quality of the program enhance. In the keynote address, Professor Sarkar shared his thoughts on this very important topic in his own style. He explained GIC economy that is project-based economy and raised his voice in favour of sustainability of startups. He concluded by highlighting five (05) pillars of self-reliance such as Economy, Infrastructure, System, Demography and Demand.

We always feel proud when Professor (Dr.) Malayendu Saha, Chairman, West Bengal Joint Entrance Examination Board gives his consent to act as President of this National Seminar. In his presidential address, Professor Saha very nicely explained the inner meaning and necessity of holding this type of seminar. Very nicely he started his lecture with the quotation of Henric Ibsen—"The Strongest Man in the world is he who stands alone". The dignitaries present on the dais released the ABSTRACT Book.

At the end Mrs Priyanthi Bagchi, Assistant Professor of Economics, NSOU offered a very hearty vote of thanks. All the sessions of the 2-day National Seminar were well coordinated by Dr. Sudarshan Roy and Shri Monojit Garai, Assistant Professors of School of Professional Studies.

On the first day inaugural session was followed by four Technical Sessions

TECHNICAL SESSION-I: BANKING & FINANCE

The banking sector has gone through some major changes in recent years, and it is going to evolve in the years to come. In 2023 and beyond, one of the main driving forces for change impacting the banking and financial industries will be the need to meet customer experience expectations. Therefore, the First technical session was on Banking & Finance. Professor Subhranshu Sekhar Sarkar chaired this session and Dr. Sudarshan Roy, Assistant Professor of Commerce, NSOU acted as Rapporteur & Coordinator. Dr. Mizanur Rahman, Associate Professor, Accounting and Banking, Bangladesh Open University very nicely delivered Plenary Lecture on “Indo-Bangla Trade Policy Analysis” and 04 papers were presented by presenters in this session. Really, we have enriched our knowledge by their deliberations. The entire session was managed and controlled by the Chairman with full command and a cooperative attitude towards academic excellence.

TECHNICAL SESSION-II: COVID & HEALTH CARE

Covid-19 pandemic has brought health as the focal point of our lives. The pandemic has strained the healthcare infrastructure in India. At policy level, Govt. of India issued telemedicine guidelines, issued notification about the retail sale of drugs at doorstep, launched different schemes. The Insurance Regulatory Authority of India (IRDAI) announced several relaxations etc. Naturally considering the importance of Covid & Health Care, the 2nd technical session was meant for Covid & Health Care. Professor Asish Kumar Sana, Department of Commerce, Calcutta University honoured the Chair and Mrs Priyanthi Bagchi, Assistant Professor, NSOU acted as Rapporteur and Coordinator. Dr. Avik Mukherjee, Burdwan University delivered Plenary Lecture with full command over the subject. 03paper presenters presented their papers very nicely and confidently. The Chairman of the session concluded the session by giving his own observations. All the time the Chairman showed his full confidence and concentrated to maintain time management to manage the session.

TECHNICAL SESSION-IIA: PARALLEL SESSION

In order to manage time and encourage young researchers, one parallel session has been arranged at same time in the Board Room and Professor (Dr) Chitta Ranjan Sarkar, Professor of Commerce, NSOU chaired the session. 07 paper presenters presented their papers very nicely. Professor Sarkar managed the entire session with full command over the subject. Mr. Manojit Garai, Assistant Professor, NSOU very confidently acted as Rapporteur and Coordinator.

TECHNICAL SESSION-III: WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

Again, quoting from Rabindranath Thakur. In 1916, in 'Ghare Baire' Gurudev mentioned that- "For we women are not only the deities of the household fire but the flame of the soul itself". Naturally Empowerment of women has emerged as an important issue in our society. Empowerment is a process, by which women gain greater control over material and intellectual resources which will assist them to increase self-reliance and enhance them to assert their independent rights and challenge the ideology of patriarchy and the gender-based discrimination against women. Therefore, the fourth technical session has been fixed for women empowerment. Professor Uttam Kumar Dutta, Professor of Commerce, NSOU chaired the session and Mr. Monojit Garai Assistant Professor, NSOU acted as Rapporteur and Coordinator. Dr Anindita Sen, Associate Professor of Economics, University of Calcutta delivered Plenary Lecture with her master like attitude and command over the subject. Really Dr. Sen was the right person for right topic. After plenary lecture 06 papers were presented by the paper presenters. All the paper presenters presented their papers very smartly and confidently. After presentation the Chairman offered his observations and encouraged all the paper presenters for their nice presentation. Really the Chairman enlightened us by his very good and thought-provoking observations.

SECOND DAY PROGRAMME

In case of second day, there were four technical sessions that is session five, six, seven and eight and finally the Valedictory session.

TECHICAL SESSION-IV: SOCIAL & ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

In the economics study of the public sector, economic and social development is the process by which the economic well-being and quality of life of a nation, region, local community, or an individual are improved according to targeted goals and objective. Social and economic development can be measured with indicators such as GDP, life expectancy, literacy, and levels of employment. Naturally the 4th technical session was specifically meant for Social and Economic Development.

Professor Swagata Sen, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor of Viswa Bangla University in spite of his very busy schedule agreed to chair the session and Mrs Priyanthi Bagchi & Dr. Rituparna Acharya acted as Rapporteur and Coordinator. In this session, Professor Arun Kumar Chakraborty, Head, DLIS, NSOU delivered a plenary lecture showing his intellectual capability and full command over the subject. He discussed the role of IPR in a very thought - provoking manner. 06 young researchers presented their papers with full energy and enthusiasm. At the end the Chairman offered his expert opinion in a very thematic way.

TECHNICAL SESSION-V: ENTREPRENEURSHIP

“A good entrepreneur is one who is capable of inspiring confidence in people, and can motivate them to work with him in fulfilling the economic goals set by him”. Quoting from Martin Luther King “The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.” So, the fifth technical session was on Entrepreneurship. Professor Biswajit Chatterjee, Professor of Economics, NSOU took the chair. Mrs Priyanthi Bagchi and Mr. Anupam Das, Assistant Professor, NSOU very nicely performed their duties of Rapporteurs and Coordinators. Professor Siddhartha Sankar Saha, Head, Dept. of Commerce, University of Calcutta and Dr Kumarjit Mandal, Associate Professor of Economics, University of Calcutta delivered plenary lectures very lucidly and confidently. Both are, no doubt, very experts in their respective areas. 03 papers were presented in this session. In managing and controlling this session the chairman showed his expertise to the full extent.

TECHNICAL SESSION-VA: PARALLEL SESSION

Again, in order to encourage young researchers and to maintain the time management properly one parallel session has been arranged on the second day in the Board Room. Dr Asim Karmakar, Assistant Professor of Economics honoured the chair and 07 paper presenters presented their papers very smartly and confidently. Dr. Asim Karmakar is a very senior teacher, good researcher, and excellent speaker in the field of Economics. Naturally very confidently he controlled and managed the entire session.

TECHNICAL SESSION-VI: CONTEMPORARY ISSUES

A lot of changes are taking place in the world. New products are replacing old products, new theories are taking over old theories, and new processes are supplanting old processes. Naturally new issues are emerging every time. So, the eighth that is the last technical session was on Contemporary issues. Professor Siddhartha Sankar Saha, Head, Dept. of Commerce, University of Calcutta chaired the session and Dr. Sudarshan Roy, NSOU acted as Rapporteur and Coordinator. CA Mrityunjoy Acharjee, GM-Finance NR Co. Ltd. GoI Enterprise (Formerly VP-Taxation, Balmer Lawries Co Ltd.) and Dr Ranjanendra Narayan Nag, Associate Professor of St. Xavier's College delivered plenary lectures. All the participants were overwhelmed by their deliberations. Both are excellent orators and possessed good command over the subjects. After plenary lectures by two renowned experts. 07 paper presenters presented their papers confidently and smartly. The Chairman controlled and managed the entire session very nicely and maintained time management properly.

VALEDICTORY SESSION

After completion of all the eight technical sessions, valedictory session started. Professor Anirban Ghosh, Director (i/c), School of Professional Studies NSOU acted as moderator of the session. Dr. Seikh Salim, Associate Professor of Economics, NSOU offered a very heart-touching and mind-blowing welcome address and then Professor Asish Bhattacharyya, Distinguished Professor, Shiv Nadar University and Former Professor, IIM, Calcutta has given the valedictory address

Professor Asish Bhattacharyya is widely acclaimed as legend in the sphere of Accounting and Finance in India and abroad. Throughout his academic career he is greatly admired as a scholar, teacher and researcher dedicating to the cause of promoting teaching-learning and research process in various aspects of accounting and finance. He is, without doubt, one of the pioneers in the field of accounting and finance. In true sense, he is a doyen in the field of accounting standards.

In his valedictory address, he highlighted different emerging issues in the present-day context and has thrown certain questions before the young researchers. He expects that the researchers would come forward and they would be involved in doing research. At the time of his lecture pin-drop silence has been observed inside the hall. Really, we are motivated and enlightened by his lecture. All the participants are overwhelmed by his motivating and inspiring lecture.

When the Valedictory address was over Professor Uttam Kumar Dutta, Professor of Commerce, NSOU very nicely presented the summary of the entire two-day seminar before the audience and at the end Mrs Priyanthi Bagchi offered a very hearty vote of thanks.

In two-day National seminar, total 45 paper presenters presented their papers and 120 delegates, teachers, dignitaries, invitees, and officials actively participated and most of them put forth their inputs and valuable suggestions about how self-reliance can be obtained in order to fulfil the target of becoming Atmanirbhar Bharat. Interactions, brainstorming, collective efforts, team work and active participation made the seminar a memorable one.

Last but not the least, The School of Professional Studies, NSOU always believes that under the efficient and energetic Leadership of Professor (Dr.) Anirban Ghosh and at the collective but self-less efforts and well wishes of all the faculty members, officials and office staff it would be surely possible to achieve self-reliance in the years to come. At the end of the programme “BEST PAPER AWARD” was handed over by Professor Asish Bhattacharya to Ms. Durba Ahamed, Research Scholar, Jadavpur University for her paper titled “COVID 19: A Means of Exploitation”. The participation certificates were also distributed among the participants.

The conclusion can be drawn with the words of Swami Vivekananda. “Learn everything that is good from others, but bring it in, and in your own way absorb it; do not become others”
