Dr. Prabal Kumar Sinha inaugurated the programme and delivered the cordial welcome address, followed by welcoming the guests with flower bouquets.

The welcome address was followed a short deliberation by Dr Asim Kumar Pal. Next, Shri Prosenjit Bhattacharya offered a very warm welcome to newly admitted learners. He thanked them for choosing NSOU as the institution for enhancing their educational levels and achievements thereafter. He mentioned that NSOU has received 'A' accreditation in its first cycle with NAAC. Also, it is this Open and Distance Learning (ODL) method that provides opportunities for enhancing education for the housewives, jobholders and aged persons who do not get time and opportunity to attend regular classes in the conventional institutions.

Next Dr Sudeshna Chatterjee, delivered a very special lecture to encourage and motivate the learners of NSOU. She mentioned how learners should be well informed about the website of the university and its application in the mobile phone. They should be well aware of the timely activities of the university and should regularly follow the timely class schedules and registration and/or examination form fillup related activities. She encouraged the learners to do all the procedures themselves and be self-reliant rather than depending on others to do their university related work. Apart from education, learners should be smart enough to tackle every problem as their goal should not be just reading syllabus-oriented study materials, fetch good marks and achieve jobs. Goals should be much beyond syllabus and everyone should focus on having a life of service. It is this mentality that will help the learners to have a better understanding of the surrounding environment and thereby develop life skills.

Next, Smt. Priyanthi Bagchi, discussed about the ongoing CBCS (Choice Based Credit System) course for Undergraduate learners of Netaji Subhas Open University and its significance. She gave detailed speech about the current programme and asked how to prepare for assignments and exams. She gave a detailed description about the various teaching-learning processes that are followed in the university in the form of provision of PCP classes, SLP classes, audio-visual lectures, and about the classes that are conducted via web TV and the radio channel, Muktak. Smt. Bagchi also mentioned that certificates given by NSOU are as good as the certificate issued by any other university, and so the learners are expected to put in equivalent effort as learners of any regular university.

Next, Smt. Chatterjee discussed about the various features of the NSOU website. She mentioned how learners need to be aware of the timely activities related to upload of study materials in the applications and/or examination form fill up and renewal procedures. She noted certain entreaty of the learners regarding timely conduct of PCP in the college and upload of study materials in the application.

Next, Dr Pal advised the learners to attend the classes (if possible) and counseling sessions of NSOU for their own benefits and also promised to look after their grievances in the best possible way. He ended the session with a vote of thanks.

The meeting ended at around 1.30pm. Later on team visited the offices of the LSC and seen the relevant documents and how the LSC is functioning, other few changes of documentation procedure LSC performance was found satisfactory.
